

Equity rising: The role of APHA Caucuses in advancing health equity, in and outside of APHA

Monday, November 12, 2018

1:00 - 2:30 PM

Location (SDCC 8)

Moderators:

Titilayo Okoror, PhD, Chair of the Caucus Collaborative

Sarah Gareau, DrPH, Incoming Chair of the Caucus Collaborative

Discussants:

Jose Aparicio, MD, MPH, The Latino Caucus for Public Health

Kamahanahokulani Farrar, MHRM, American Indian, Alaska Native, & Native Hawaiian Caucus

Panelists:

Sandy-Asari Hogan, DrPH, Black Caucus of Health Care Workers

Nancy Krieger, PhD, Spirit of 1848 Caucus

Keri Norris, PhD, Women's Caucus

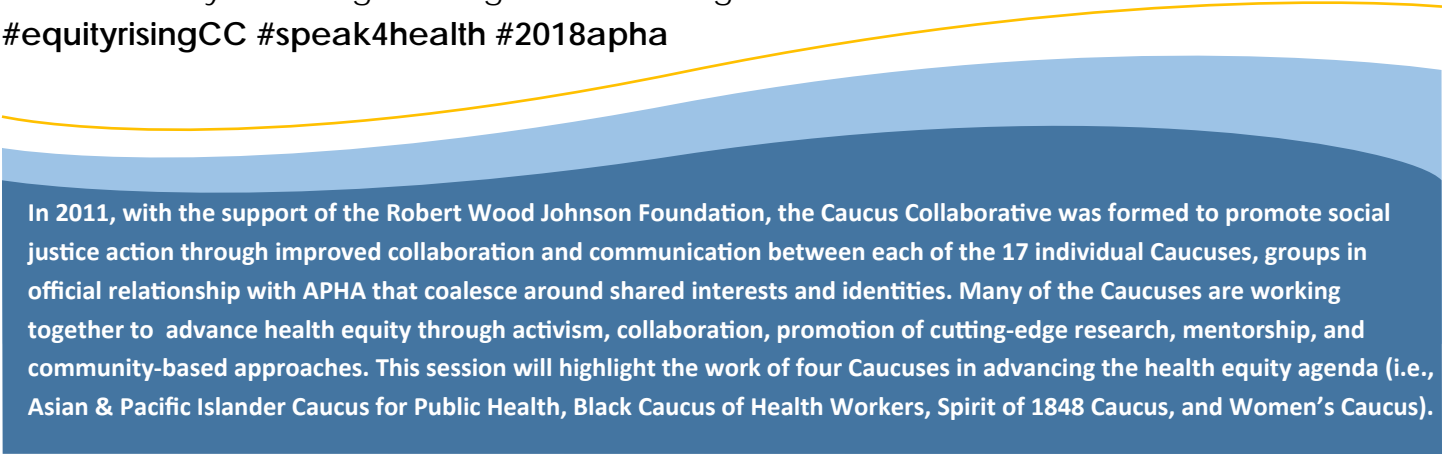

Elena Ong, PHN, MS, Asian & Pacific Islander Caucus for Public Health

Join the conversation on social media:

What can we do to promote health equity in our ever-changing sociopolitical climate? How can we reduce health inequities to help us become the healthiest generation by 2030?

Please share your thoughts using these hashtags:

#equityrisingCC #speak4health #2018apha

In 2011, with the support of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, the Caucus Collaborative was formed to promote social justice action through improved collaboration and communication between each of the 17 individual Caucuses, groups in official relationship with APHA that coalesce around shared interests and identities. Many of the Caucuses are working together to advance health equity through activism, collaboration, promotion of cutting-edge research, mentorship, and community-based approaches. This session will highlight the work of four Caucuses in advancing the health equity agenda (i.e., Asian & Pacific Islander Caucus for Public Health, Black Caucus of Health Workers, Spirit of 1848 Caucus, and Women's Caucus).